Current Comment

This week we're due for a spot of comment on a few of the men who aspire to public office. I'm not going to attempt coverage of the entire field—too many of 'em, to start with.

We of this community are familiar with the excellent work of former Senator Sanborn Young of Los Gatos, who again seeks election to the state senate. His efforts on behalf of the eradication of narcotics alone entitles him to your whole-hearted support.

Next on the list is Joe McKinnon, incumbent supervisor. You all know how faithful he has been to this area; how nicely he keeps the roads up, etc. You know that his is the guiding mind of the board and that the county is operated much more economically than most. It would not be sound business to replace him.

Of the seekers after the coroner's office, Amos Williams, another incumbent, strikes me as being the best bet. Some of the other candidates have sought to undermine his prestige by means of silly attacks in a valley farm paper, and if these literary gems are any indication of their writers' ability I think we could count them out without sacrificing a single thing. Mr. Williams is able, and is possessed of the facilities necessary to the job, and is therefore entitled to your consideration.

There are quite a few fellows who would like to be county treasurer in place of Dale Holland. Mr. Holland, the incumbent, who would like to succeed himself, will doubtless accomplish his aim. He has instituted considerable economic reform in his office, and I don't believe any of his opponents could beat him at a game he has been familiar with for some years. Another point: As near as I can find out, all other seekers after the office already have jobs; Mr. Holland has devoted years to his county, first as a deputy and then as treasurer, and it would be a breach of common sense to replace him with a man who would be obliged to quit a job if elected, thereby thrusting a loyal, respected and able public servant into the ranks of the unemployed.

Another incumbent—I favor incumbents if they are at all competent, because the cost of their training has already been chalked off the slate—is Hayden W. Pitman, county assessor. Mr. Pitman has held down a ticklish job with great ability and fairness. He knows values and the tax business from A to Z. And that's the kind of a man we want in the office next year when the public service corporations' operating property reverts to the county tax roll. Keep him in mind as a man who can't be bought when you mark your ballot next week.

Unusual Program At Local Church

This Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Congregational church a very interesting and unusual demonstration will be given by Rueben Chappell of the University of Toronto, who is visiting for a few days at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Bennett.

Mr. Chappell is the only laboratory technician outside of Holland entitled to the degree of Master of Glass Blowing, a distinction which he obtained by special study in Holland. He was the first boy scout and the first junior church member in the pastorate Rev. Bennett held 20 years ago.

The demonstration will include simple glass blowing experiments and also some very beautiful phenomena produced by the means of liquid air. The University of California has granted to Mr. Chappell the full use of all necessary apparatus. Admission will be free and an offering will be taken towards the expenses of the church.

Bundy Resigns Cannery Post

W. A. Bundy, identified with the Campbell Packing corporation since its inception here last year, has resigned, according to announcement made by the company last Friday.

Bundy will be succeeded by R. C. Isenbruck as president of the company, and Wilbur Cox, who has served in the capacity of office manager, will succeed Mr. Isenbruck as secretary-treasurer.

Sunnyvale Folks Buy Restaurant

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bowman, for four years the proprietors of the Sunset Orange Mill on the San Francisco highway at Sunnyvale, last week purchased and took over the Busy Bee restaurant, operated for the past 6 years by Harry White.

The Bowmans, after selling out at Sunnyvale recently, enjoyed a 12,000-mile tour of the middle west and east. Returning to California, they cast about for a good opening, and decided on Campbell. They come here well recommended by citizens and town officials of Sunnyvale.

This week carpenters and painters are busy in the back of the restaurant, remodeling the kitchen, vegetable room, and adding a ladies rest room. The renevation will be carried into the front of the establishment as rapidly as possible, the Bowmans stated.

Local Model Wins Endurance Flight

At a contest for model airplanes held Saturday at the Roosevelt school in San Jose Kermit Van Every of Campbell won first place with a flight of 46 seconds. Twenty-four young pilots and their planes competed. All models were powered with rubber bands. Van Every's plane, after making its first flight, landed and tok off again without "re-fueling," and stayed aloft for another 46 seconds.

Alvin Van Every, brother of the winner, took second place with his entry, which stayed up for 43 minutes.

Another flight will be held Saturday, Sept. 2 at the Roosevelt school, according to Bob Arabia, conductor of the contests.

Program to Aid Farm Owners

Farmers in financial stress now have the assistance of 54 county farm debt adjustment committees in effort to obtain voluntary scale down or extension of debts, was announced lately by T. C. Tucker, chairman of the California farm debt adjustment committee with headquarters at San Francisco.

Nearly all the county committees are meeting regularly to receive applications from farmers for aid in adjusting their financial burdens, Tucker stated. Many of the committees have already obtained for farmers either a scale down of debts or an extension of time in which to pay their obligations, according to reports received by the state committee. These arrangements were made on a voluntary basis between the farmers and their creditors.

The work of the debt adjustment committees is without precedent in California, Tucker stated. The plan has been in operation in some of the eastern states and is sponsored by the farm credit administration. The committee membership in each county is balanced between farmers and creditor representatives.

"Farmers should feel free to avail themselves of the assistance of the county committees," Tucker said. "There should be no pangs of conscience or modesty in appearing before the committees for assistance. Since 1929 there has been a widespread program throughout every form of industry to reorganize. The voluntary farm debt adjustment committees are part of that program and give to the farmer his opportunity to reorganize his finances so that he can balance his present income with his obligations and not lose his income producing property and equipment through foreclosure."

Tucker stated that there was a widespread understanding among creditors that farmers were given every opportunity to retain their lands in order that they be able to meet obligations incurred before agricultural prices declined. This understanding is manifested by creditors' willingness to either scale down or give extension of time.

In Wisconsin more than 2,000 distressed farmers with debts previously aggregating $14,700,000 have kept posession of their homes and property as a direct result of the efforts of the farm debt adjustment committees. Many of the committees have settled from 60 to 90 per cent of the debt problems brought before them.

Indebted farmers or their creditors who are unable to come to mutually satisfactory terms, may obtain the services of the committee without cost. All applications and records are the private property of the committee. It reviews the record submitted by the farmers and their creditors and endeavors to assist in securing a voluntary settlement satisfactory to both. There is nothing compulsory in the procedure and the farmer may withdraw his application if he so desires. The chief objective of the committee is to prevent the

Grange Moves For Observance Of Traffic Laws

The Orchard City grange has started a movement to curb traffic violations in Campbell. Resolutions sent to the board of supervisors and the highway patrol last week have already obtained results. Joe McKinnon, supervisor, has surveyed the area for best locations for stop signs and speed limit signs in the business and residential districts.

The grange's resolution pointed out that when all canneries are operating, chances of accidents are greater than normal, and the need for traffic control correspondingly increased. Officers on duty in Campbell are not vested with authority to make arrests for traffic violations. The resolution also asked for more frequent visits by members of the state highway patrol, even though the local squad would have to be increased to make more frequent visits possible.

It is believed that with the proper stop signs and speed limit signs, and with more supervision, traffic accidents can be materially decreased.

The board of supervisors requested of the state motor vehicle department the appointment of three or four more traffic police for the county squad to insure more frequent visits by squad members to Campbell.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 17

High school freshmen will register for the fall semester on Sept. 11 and 12, according to Lloyd K. Wood, principal, who suggests that parents accompany their children to help them get started.

The three upper classes will register Sept. 13 and 14, and classes will take up Sept. 17.

HIGH SCHOOL RENOVATION

The removal of the palm tree, which has stood in the front of the high school for many years was the first step taken in the renovation of the school before the fall term. A sidewalk will be laid directly from the main entrance of the building to the public sidewalk.

The office of the principal is being refinished and remodeled so that he will have a private conference room. There will be no remodeling of class rooms this year but, according to Mrs. Louis Shelley, clerk of the school board, if the enrollment should increase it is possible to remodel the Hagelin house, which stands on the property purchased by the school, to take care of several classes.

Best Swaps With Hayward Prof

Neil O. Best, teacher of mathematics in the high school here for the past seven years, tendered his resignation to the school board last week. It was accepted, and he will take the position of dean of boys and teacher of mathematics at the Hayward high school. Last year Mr. Best was also vice principal of the local school.

Mr. Best's place will be taken by Thomas D. Lewis of the Hayward school who, it was learned from the new principal here, wanted to come to this vicinity for the health of a member of his family.

Drunks Nabbed On Peace Charge

Dan McKinnon and M. M. Turnbow were arrested last week by Constable Frank Coupland, who lodged them in the county jail charged with disturbing the peace. He reported they were lying insensible on the sidewalk just east of the railroad tracks. Their addresses are unknown, but it is believed they are here for the cannery season.

Arthur McCarty Fractures Skull In Auto Wreck

Last Wednesday evening Art McCarty, 22-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McCarty of San Tomas, suffered a fractured skull when his car collided with the parked car of Dr. W. I. Merrill in front of the latter's house on Campbell avenue, apparently as he swung out of Second street.

Dr. Merrill heard the crash and rushed out to the scene of the wreck. McCarty's car had turned over, pinning him underneath. The doctor aided in extracting the youth from the wreck, and rushed him to O'Connor's sanitarium, where, it is reported, he is getting along nicely.

Canners Start Tomato Pack

The Campbell Packing corporation swung into its tomato packing operations today, retaining the greater portion of those people at present employed. This is the second year in which the cannery has included tomatoes in its current activity.

Conspicuously on the bulletin board appears now an advertisement for more women workers, with which to replace those who must return to their homes in order to enter their children in school or to satisfy other obligations. The management announces it will run one full shift a day.

The Campbell Packing corporation has been running full time since the opening of the season, and has packed thousands of cases of peaches, nectarines and pears.

Texts Land May Net Heirs Millions

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gray of Campbell may share millions with other relatives if Texas land to which they have fallen heir proves to be "oil" land. Valued at $400 an acre, a suit has been brought to sell the land and divide the proceeds of the sale among heirs. Mr. Gray, however, believes that its proximity to the Burke-Burnett oil field might place it over a similar oil deposit, and plans an injunction to halt the sale until it has been re-valued by experts.

Tariff League Asks Questions

Are the crops of California to be subjected to early trade under the recently passed amendment to the tariff act authorizing the president to enter into reciprocal trading agreements with other countries? This is the question asked the Growers Tariff League today by one of the commodity organizations holding membership in the League.

This member organization states that it has received a request from the United States Tariff Commission seeking reports on its operations for the past several years.

No reason was given for the request and no indication why the information is desired, but the League considers the Commission's action significant since it is timed with reports from Washington that negotiations are now actively underway for the purpose of carrying out the reciprocal trading powers granted the president.

Inquiries are being made by the League seeking to ascertain if similar requests have been made to other California crop commodity organizations.

The League has been informed that trades handling California comodities subject to the risk of being reciprocally traded are showing some uneasiness over the possibility, and it is feared that such uneasiness may be reflected in the demand and price trends of crops now seeking markets.

The Growers Tariff League is advising its growers to call upen their Congressional Representatives to exert their influence to prevent any reciprocal agreements which will use California crops as trading instruments.

The California Delegation voted on the reciprocal trading agreement amendment as follows: For the bill: Democrats, Lea, Buck, McGrath, Church, Stubbs, Hoeppel, Kramer, Ford, Dockweiler and Colden; Republicans, Welch. Against the bill: Democrats, Burke; Republicans, Englebright, Kahn, Carter, Eltse, Evans, Traeger, Collins and Burnham. Senate: Against the bill: Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, who opposed the bill vigorously in a speech delivered from the floor of the Senate. Senator Wm. G. McAdoo was recorded as not voting on the bill.

CROP LOSSES STRENGTHEN CALIF. FOODS

The tremendous damage to growing crops of several sorts throughout the Middle West, and to a considerable extent also in the East, from the drought and sizzling hot weather recently, is very regrettable. California food productions will however, advantage. While California does not feel any sense of pleasure at a gain through such tremendous losses to others, at the same time, the fact exists. Having had rather generally good weather here notwithstanding a short rainfall, California—particularly the irrigated sections—is in a position to take advantage of the situation and gain through the general demand for food.

A press commentator here recently remarked that Dame Nature has knocked the New Deal into a cocked hat. The Federal agricultural program has been holding down production and now Nature has importantly assisted in overdoing the job. Even "planned" economy has to take a back seat when competing with natural forces. A grain, meat and vegetable shortage is apparent in a large part of the world, as well as this country. And so California agricultural crops are in for a good demand and good prices apparently, generally speaking, for the next twelve

Frank T. Lannin Gives Platform

Frank T. Lannin, well known San Jose realtor and business man, recently announced his candidacy for the office of assemblyman from the 31st district.

In commenting on his intention of seeking the office, Lannin said:

"I have consistently stood for a government that endeavored to honestly interpret the wishes of the majority of the people as distinguished from a government of and by and for politicians; for a government, the expenses of which are borne in proportion to the ability of the people to pay; for a lightening of the tax burden on the home owner, farm owner and average citizen, either in a small business or working for a living; for a government wherein the rich and poor, the strong and weak, receive equal teratment from the courts and prosecutors on a basis of justice rather than 'personal pull' or political intrigue; for a government that believes that the right to 'life, liberty and pursuit of happiness' should be a fact rather than a phrase. This kind of government is possible if those who are legislating are sincere and if their personal interests are the same as those of the great mass of people. It is not possible if the personal interests and life training of those who are legislating are influenced by profit made from confusion, indefiniteness and indirectly from crime. My interests are the same as those of the average citizen who is endeavoring to make a living from work or the operation of a small business.

"I shall continue to stand for greater efficiency in government to the end that there will be less high salaries for bureaucratic heads and for a greater efficiency in the prosecution of criminals and eradication of crime. I believe we should have a greater coordination of local and state law enforcement; the appointment of judges subject to a confirmation or vote of approval or disapproval by the people; that judges should be permitted to comment on the failure of the accused to testify; but I am opposed to any other theory than that the accused shall be considered innocent until proven guilty.

"If you would eliminate crime, you should take the profit out of crime, not only for the criminal, but those who profit by defending criminals.

"We are approaching a new social order and we must realize that the problem of unemployment and relief will be indefinitely with us. We must plan in cooperation with the federal government, for the relief of unemployment, health insurance, and the care of the aged.

"There has been, and is now being carried on, a tremendous drive for the wrecking of our public school system. No one realizes more than I the tax burden of carrying on public education, but I am of the opinion that the public school system is the bulwark between peonage and happiness for the average person; I am unalterably opposed to any policy that would have a tendency to destroy the efficiency and service of our school system.

"When bills are presented to me to vote on, wherein one must determine between human rights and the dollar, I shall stand on the side of those advocating human rights."

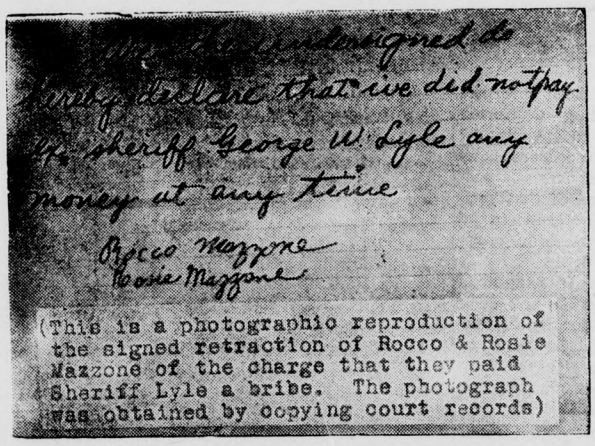
ONEAL-THE MAZZONES-EMIG

Four years ago designing politicians, headed by Boss Louis Oneal, put into motion the machinery of a political plot the equal of which has not been seen in this part of California for many, many years.

Their machinations placed in the shadow of the penitentiary an honest man. They placed over the heads of his family, his aged mother and his two splendid sons the charge, that the man so falsely and maliciously accused was the lowest form of crook—a grafting sheriff.

The man so jeopardized was GEORGE W. LYLE, then SHERIFF of Santa Clara County, who is a candidate for office again this year and who asks your indulgence for just a few minutes while the story of what bossism can do to an honest official is told. The story follows:



We the undersigned do hereby declare that we did not pay Sheriff George W. Lyle any money at any time

Rocco Mazzone
Rosie Mazzone

(This is a photographic reproduction of the signed retraction of Rocco & Rosie Mazzone of the charge that they paid Sheriff Lyle a bribe. The photograph was obtained by copying court records)

Rocco and Rosie Mazzone, notorious Campbell bootleggers, who had many times been arrested and prosecuted by Sheriff Lyle, were prevailed upon to make a false affidavit that they had paid George W. Lyle as sheriff a $300 bribe so that he would let them run.

This false affidavit was obtained by Edmund Lowell and Joseph Napoli, both of whom are now and have been since 1931, regular deputies of the present sheriff.

Mr. Lyle was obliged to have Mr. Lowell arrested as the "affidavit" was given wide circulation. Mr. Lowell was charged with slander.

Mr. Lowell's own sworn testimony at his trial was that he and Mr. Napoli obtained the false affidavit from the Mazzones. Mr. Lowell's testimony said further that he took the affidavit to the office of Attorney Louis Oneal.

Mr. Lowell's testimony went on to say that after he showed the "affidavit" as he called it, to Attorney Louis Oneal he took it to the campaign headquarters of the present sheriff.

Then Mr. Lyle had Mr. and Mrs. Mazzone arrested on charges of criminal libel. The case was set for trial in March, 1931, three months after Mr. Lyle had left the sheriff's office.

Mr. Lyle was defeated for re-election by the false affidavit of Rocco and Rosie Mazzone.

BUT THE TRUTH CAME OUT. IT CAME OUT SUDDENLY. IT CAME OUT SURELY, AS IT ALWAYS DOES, SOONER OR LATER.

Mr. and Mrs. Mazzone went into a sudden conference with their attorney as the trial progressed. In a few moments their attorney went before Superior Judge J. R. Welch and said his clients had told him the charges they had sworn to against Sheriff Lyle were false, and that they wished to take them back.

MR. AND MRS. MAZZONE signed a written statement, read into the record, in which they SAID THAT THEIR AFFIDAVITS WERE FALSE AND THAT THEY HAD NEVER PAID GEORGE W. LYLE ANY MONEY.

This unqualified denial of the charges used by Boss Louis Oneal's organization to defeat George W. Lyle is a matter of public record. You and your good neighbors who may be in doubt may find it attached to the papers in Case No. 22945½, Book P, Page 197, in the criminal records of the Superior Court of Santa Clara County.

We say to you that after the present sheriff was elected Rocco and Rosie Mazzone have bootlegged without molestation.

We remind you that Louis Oneal is STILL FIGHTING FOR THE PRESENT SHERIFF. We say to you that BOSS CHARLES BIGLEY is out with his political machine, allied in the front ranks with Boss Oneal to keep the present sheriff in office and defeat George W. Lyle.

We are not slinging mud. We are telling you facts. We leave it with you to decide whether George W. Lyle was defeated by unfair and unethical means.

The above charge was made against Mr. Lyle a short time before election and he was unable to get into court until the election was over.

A vote for Mr. Lyle will be a vindication and your disapproval of corrupt methods.

The sponsors of George W. Lyle ask you to consider these facts.

WATER BOARD EMPLOYS MEN

A recent meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation district in the Beans buliding revealed that 20 additional men will be hired to work on the Stevens creek project, according to Secretary Leroy Anderson.

Alexander Jefford, resident inspector for the public works administration, who is inspecting the conservation project before making a report to PWA officials this week, attended the meeting.

Funds available to push the work along will be released immediately to the purchasing syndicate upon reception of the $2,000,000 bond issue which is expected Aug. 17 at 9 a. m.

Work is progressing satisfactorily, according to Engineer Fred Tibbets, who told the directors that tunnels drilled 30 years ago by the Spring Valley Water company on the Coyote creek were being reopened and retimbered.

A quarterly business conference will be held by the board at their next meeting, occurring Sept. 4.

Healy Returns

Matchmaker Frank Lowery of the local wrestling enterprises who announced yesterday that Al Perry has departed for South America, came up with another announcement today of interest to local fans. Jim Healy, local mat ace who resides at Almaden, has returned from a campaign through the southern states and has placed on the local mat card for Saturday night.

Healy who surprised everyone by defeating Indian Jack Smith, Ted Cox and several others of the roughhouse boys, will meet Bill Longson in the 30-minute special event.

The entire program was completed today with one rough match. That will be the 20-minute opener which brings together the veteran Swedish mat star, John Fredberg, and Indian Jules Strongbow, 270-pound redman, who delights in punching an opponent instead of wrestling.

The two feature bouts will be the same as announced with Hardy Kruskamp meeting Vic Christy in the two-hour main event. This will be Christy's first appearance here since having his leg badly injured some time ago.

The semi-windup is another great bout, bringing together Al Baffert and Glen Wade for the first time. It will be a two-out-of-three fall affair with a 45-minute time limit.

Gerome Rollin of San Francisco visited over the week-end with Mrs. Rollin, who is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins of McCoy avenue.

Mrs. F. R. Anderson and children, and her sister, Miss Gertrude Boehme, enjoyed a long week-end at Prescott Inn in Capitola.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. David Ribble of Campbell.

Mrs. T. A. Robinson who recently underwent a major operation was able to come home from the hospital Thursday.

"43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE"

"You're too modest!"

Motorists who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say, "You're too modest!" Many of them report 50% to 100% more non-skid mileage. Why, then, do we insist on only 43%? Well, 43% is a definite test-car-proved figure. Very likely it is low for normal use—because the tests which established the 43% average were gruelling: cars speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, mile after mile, day and night. Very likely most motorists will get more than 43% more non-skid mileage. But we'll string along with 43%—because it's plenty to deliver at no extra cost. Come see the tire that's the talk of the nation.

When You "G-3" Your Wheels—

farmer from going into bankruptcy if it can do so without violating the rights of all parties concerned.

If the committee cannot find a satisfactory voluntary settlement, the farmer still has opportunity to protect himself against the loss of his property. He can apply to the county conciliation commissioner appointed by federal judges for each county under a recently enacted law. The conciliator attempts to work out a settlement that will be acceptable to a majority of creditors, both in number and amount; if he is successful the court may make the settlement binding on the unsecured minority creditors.

It is our belief that in most instances the work of the county adjustment committees makes it unnecessary for farmers to resort to the assistance of the conciliators," Tucker stated. "Only in extreme cases will it be necessary for farmers to resort to bankruptcy under the Frazier-Lemke amendment. It is therefore important that debtors first make application to the county committee before appealing to the conciliator.' '

WORTH YOUR CONSIDERATION

Reasons why you should vote for

CLARENCE L.
RICH
for SUPERVISOR
4TH DISTRICT

I have lived on my ranch in Cupertino, on Homestead road, and been a taxpayer, for 27 years.

I BELIEVE that every American citizen should have the freedom to vote as he pleases.

I BELIEVE a county business should be managed like a private business—economically and efficiently.

I BELIEVE in giving all county work and the purchase of county supplies to local business. I promise to show no favoritism in this.

I AM NOT out to take away workingmen's jobs, but I will insist upon efficiency.

I BELIEVE hospitalization should be given to all the needy, but when able, the patient should pay a definite fee. A patient who can afford to enter a private institution should not be admitted to the County Hospital.

I BELIEVE a supervisor should absolutely keep out of school affairs, except where the law requires service.

I PROMISE to give all time necessary for the successful operation of supervisorial work in District No. 4

I AM NO POLITICIAN. This is my first venture. I am tied to no political organization.

VOTERS—Give me a chance to show you I can save some of your hard-earned tax money.

Thanking you for your kind consideration,
CLARENCE L. RICH
